

National Para Dressage Champion

UOS student G. Rohner won 1st place in the national para dressage championship this month. She is a triplet and a grade IV classified para equestrian. Her aim is the 2024 Paralympics. She has been riding for 9 years and has Cerebral Palsy. She started riding for therapy and fell in love with horses! This was her first national championships and she won both of her events, receiving a high score (69.19%) from an international judge.
